

Forest Raynes – Official Artist Biography

Forest Raynes is an independent American country artist, songwriter, and storyteller whose music is inspired by the people, places, and traditions of Southern New Jersey. Recording from the Clam Shack Studio in the heart of the Jersey Pines near Tuckerton, New Jersey, Forest creates authentic country music rooted in real-life experiences, small-town values, and timeless storytelling.

Blending traditional country influences with a modern production style, Forest's songs celebrate everyday life—from back roads and bay towns to family, friendship, Christmas traditions, and life on the airwaves. His catalog also reflects his passion for amateur radio, local history, and the unique character of the Jersey Shore and Pine Barrens.

In addition to his recording career, Forest is the creator and host of Forest Raynes Radio, an online country music station featuring his original music alongside independent artists, country classics, and today's country favorites. Through his music and broadcasts, Forest is committed to supporting independent musicians while sharing songs that connect with listeners across America.

Whether performing heartfelt ballads, upbeat country anthems, or holiday favorites, Forest Raynes remains dedicated to one simple philosophy:
Real Songs. Real Stories. Real Country.
